Accruent's engineering information management solution establishes a centralized, secure, scalable, highly accessible repository for all engineering documentation. Our solution provides standard, repeatable workflows for mission-critical documents, which capture comments and approvals electronically, provide notifications, and build audit trails to support regulatory requirements. Accruent delivers advanced search capabilities so that users can quickly find all relevant engineering documentation. Providing over 30 years of process manufacturing industry expertise, we help owner-operators run their manufacturing plants efficiently, safely, sustainably, and profitably.

CONNECT MAINTENANCE AND ENGINEERING

Internal maintenance team has access to the most current engineering information and can automatically transition to engineering annotations and photos for revisions.

STREAMLINE DATA HANDOVER

Manage the exchange of engineering documentation with external contractors, while identifying and fixing data inconsistencies before they can become an issue. Owner-operators see savings of 2-4% of the total project cost by using our solution.

REGULATORY COMPLIANCE

Enable compliance with global, local, and industry-specific regulations to help minimize risk and avoid costly recalls in environments regulated by FDA 21 CFR Part 11, European Annex 11, and other regulations.

ASSET LIFECYCLE INFORMATION MANAGEMENT

Proven strategy supports the creation, exchange, and distribution of technical asset information in all phases of the plant and asset lifecycle. Ensure users have access to complete, up-to-date documentation related to work orders, so maintenance can quickly provide feedback when discrepancies are found. Additionally, our software empowers engineers to make changes based on redlines and change requests.
